

GloBird Energy
Complaints & Dispute Resolution Policy

Introduction

GloBird Energy Pty Ltd (GloBird Energy) is dedicated to providing you with excellent customer service and it is important to us that you are satisfied with the service we provide. However, in spite of our best efforts, there may be occasions when our service does not meet the high standards we set out for ourselves, or that you as a customer might reasonably expect of us. This complaints and dispute resolution policy governs how we handle complaints you may wish to raise with us in these situations.

1. Policy objective

The objective of this policy is to embed an effective, fair and efficient complaint handling process. In developing this policy, GloBird Energy has adopted industry best practice and benchmarked its customer complaints process against the Australian Standard AS ISO 10002-2006 'Customer satisfaction – Guidelines for complaints handling in organizations'.

Commitment

We are committed to an integrated complaint handling process and to providing the necessary support and resources for that process to operate effectively (including the provision of appropriately trained staff, and having robust complaints reporting procedures in place).

Visibility

We will ensure that information about how to make complaints and how we will handle any complaint is well-publicised and easily available to customers, our employees and other interested parties, including by:

- making this policy freely available on our website;
- providing free copies of this policy on request;
- setting out our contact details in this policy, so that readers can contact us for further information or to raise a complaint;
- cross-referencing this policy in other GloBird Energy documents, including our standard retail contracts and market retail contracts; and
- setting out the contact details for the Energy Ombudsman in each jurisdiction in which we operate in this policy and in other GloBird Energy documents, including our standard retail contracts and market retail contracts, to facilitate the referral of complaints to the appropriate Energy Ombudsman, where required.

Accessibility

We will ensure that our complaints handling processes are easily accessible to you and all customers who wish to make a complaint, including through:

- the visibility measures set out above;
- providing a range of methods through which complaints can be lodged, including online, by phone, email and post; and
- providing appropriate complaint lodgement arrangements and other support for customers with special needs, including by providing interpreter services where necessary.

We will respond appropriately to your complaint including by:

- using best endeavours to respond to a small customer's written enquiry or complaint within 5 business days by answering the enquiry or complaint or acknowledging its receipt and indicating how we will deal with the complaint or enquiry;
- otherwise writing to you within 10 business days to acknowledge receipt of your complaint;
- responding to a small customer's telephone enquiry in accordance with our obligations under the law;

We will ensure that your complaint is addressed in a manner, which is:

- fair;
- flexible;
- objective;

- consistent with this policy, all applicable laws and other regulatory instruments, and our handling of any previous complaint of a similar nature.

Charges

We will not impose any charge or fee for lodging a complaint, or requesting information in relation to complaints or a copy of this policy.

Meter Reads

It is your responsibility to ensure ongoing access to your meter. However, you can submit your own meter reads if you prefer to avoid an estimate read being used as the basis for your bill. If we do not accept the read you provide us, we will tell you in writing the reason why we have declined using it. You can request a review of our decision. If you disagree with our decision you can lodge a complaint with us.

Confidentiality

We will comply at all times with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act), other privacy laws and our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy when collecting, using, storing or disclosing your personal information or sensitive information (these types of information are defined in the Privacy Act). We will only request your personal information or sensitive information when we require it in order to provide our services, or in relation to a complaint in relation to us or our services.

Where we provide products or services to you on credit (that is, you will pay for those products or services after we start providing them to you), we are a credit provider for the purposes of the Privacy Act. As such, we will comply with rules in the Privacy Act in relation to the handling of information relating to credit reporting including those relating to your rights to access and correct that information and to raise related complaints.

A full copy of our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy is available for download on our website: www.globirdenergy.com.au. You can contact us using the information given below if you would like to request a free copy of that policy.

We will ensure we are fully accountable for your complaint, including by:

- giving you an opportunity to provide comments or ask questions;
- giving you the contact details for the appropriate Energy Ombudsman and advising of your right to refer the complaint to the Energy Ombudsman if our proposed resolution is not satisfactory;

- recording the details of your complaint in our client management system, and using this information to measure broader customer satisfaction with our services and help us improve our services.

Continual improvement

We will seek to continually improve our customer service and our complaints resolution policy and procedures, including by:

- reviewing and updating this policy on a regular basis, as discussed below; and
- recording complaints in our client management system, and using this to measure customer satisfaction with our services and help us improve our services.

2. What is a complaint?

A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction made to GloBird Energy where a response or resolution is expected. It may be related to our products, services, policies, procedures or the complaints-handling process itself. A complaint also includes a request by a small customer to review their bill.

3. What happens when a complaint is received?

When a complaint is received:

- we will listen to or consider your complaint, provide relevant information to you and take all responsible steps to resolve the complaint;
- we will accurately record the details of the complaint, give it fair and genuine consideration and seek to achieve a fair outcome;
- we will investigate and enquire into the complaint and consult with the relevant staff as necessary within a reasonable timeframe, having regard to the nature and complexity of the complaint;
- we will keep you informed of any progress and seek to resolve the complaint quickly and directly in a way that is fair and reasonable;
- we will treat the complaint with respect and handle personal information in accordance with our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy;
- if appropriate, we will recommend changes or actions to remedy the situation to prevent the situation recurring;
- we will promptly inform you of the outcome of a complaint and reasons for the outcome;
- if you are dissatisfied with a decision or outcome, we will inform you that you can request to have the outcome or decision reviewed internally (see section 5 below). We will also inform you of your right to refer the complaint or dispute to the appropriate Energy Ombudsman and we will provide you with the contact details of that Energy Ombudsman;

- if the complaint is associated with any sales activity, we reserve the right to request a copy of the EIC or full voice recorded conversation to assist with the investigation;
- if your distributor contacts us with the details of a customer complaint, we will deal with that complaint expeditiously and in accordance with this policy;
- if you make an enquiry or complaint to us about an issue relating to a distribution system or customer connection services (other than a fault, an emergency, a planned interruption or an unplanned interruption), we will, in the case of a telephone enquiry or complaint, refer you to the distributor's enquiry telephone number or, in any other case, provide the relevant distributor with the details of the enquiry or the complaint as soon as practicable, but no later than the next business day; and
